

Green Saturdays

A series of environmental events are planned to take place throughout November at the Public store in Syntagma Square aimed at raising children's awareness about various environmental issues. Every Saturday morning, the events will include a book presentation and various hands-on activities. On Saturday, November 14, children's author Antonis Papatheodoulou will present and read extracts from his book "Planodio parko" (Traveling Park) from Patakis Publications, while also leading a number of educational activities. The events start at noon.
