

KATERINA SERVI

Glaucus, the little Minoan

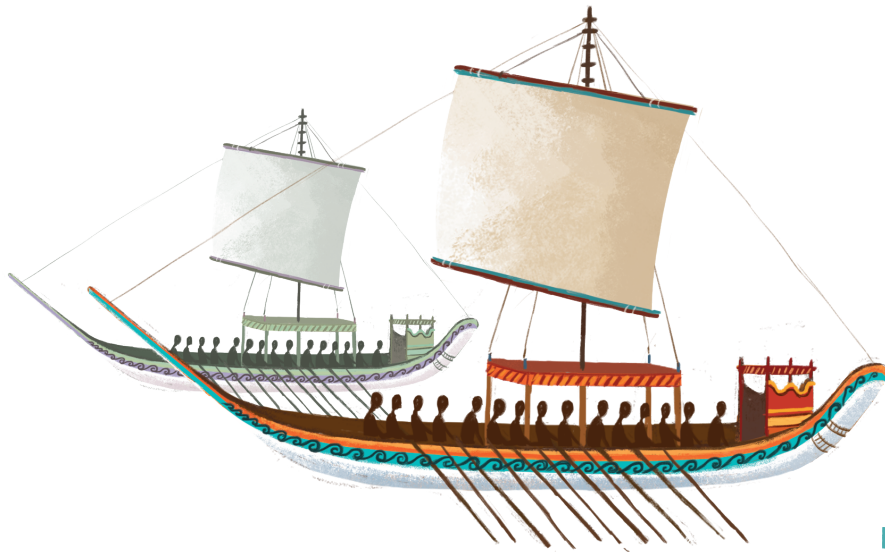

ILLUSTRATED BY
ALEXIA LOUGIAKI

 PATAKIS
PUBLISHERS

FRIENDS FROM ANCIENT TIMES

KATERINA SERVI

Glaucus, the Little Minoan

ILLUSTRATED BY
ALEXIA LOUGIAKI

 PATAKIS
PUBLISHERS

My name is Glaucus and my dad is King MInos!
I live in the city of KNOSSOS on the island of Crete,
but not in a house, like the other children.
I live in a palace, with stairs and lots of rooms, including enormous storerooms where we keep wheat, wine, honey, and olive oil.

When we have nothing to do, my brothers and sisters and I run up and down the stairs just for fun. And then the queen (our mum!) comes out of her rooms and tells us to calm down, or the MINOTAUR will come and get us!

I don't believe in the MINOTAUR. I've been down to the cellars underneath the palace lots of times and I've never seen anything remotely scary, let alone a monster with a man's body
and a bull's head.

